East Coast, NYC
July 28-29, 2018

This event is being organized by Russian Adoptees, a nonprofit organization that supports both the general and the personal needs of persons adopted from Russia and the former USSR.

WELCOME

Привет! Hi! We are excited to offer a unique experience for Russian adoptees this summer in NYC from July 28-29. We welcome any Russian adoptees to participate in this opportunity to meet other adoptees and celebrate our culture together.

Please review this packet for detailed information about the weekend's events and activities. Contact us with any additional questions and we look forward to meeting you! Thank you! Спасибо!

LODGING

AIRBNB

To provide a comfortable and affordable setting for you to connect with other adoptees, the planning committee will reserve an apartment that sleeps 12-16 people in Jersey City, NJ.

We ask that attendees who wish to stay overnight in the apartment split the rental cost. If you intend to utilize these accommodations, we will collect $50 per person (includes accommodations and food), cash or check, made out to Anna Culmone. For those who do not stay overnight in the apartment, the cost is $18 per person (includes food). See the cost breakdown on the next page.

This property is $371/night and sleeps 7-16 people. There are different options for sleeping.

FAQS

To which airport should I fly?

LaGuardia Airport and John F. Kennedy International Airport are closest to the property.

How will we get around in the city?

To get around the city as a group, we will utilize ridesharing, public transit (i.e. subway, bus, etc.), and walking.

What about parking?

Free street parking near the property is not guaranteed. Attendees are responsible for their own vehicles.

What should I pack?

Pack clothes for two days and one night (including walking shoes), toiletries, cash, a rain jacket or umbrella, a cell phone, and any prescriptions you will need. Please avoid bringing valuable items.

Can I bring guests?

Non-Russian Adoptee guests are welcome to accompany the group during the off-site activities.

Who is organizing this event?

Volunteers in the Russian Adoptees Facebook group are coordinating the event.

REGISTER

REGISTRATION

Complete this form by April 30: <https://goo.gl/6ZtPt9>.

Group accommodations will be booked based on the number of people registered by April 30. If you do not complete the form by that date, you are still allowed to participate in the event but must find alternative accommodations. We are willing to provide assistance for this.

We are asking for important information to ensure your comfort and safety during the event. If you have any questions about the registration process, please contact us.
